

Explore a Career as a PARALEGAL/LEGAL ASSISTANT

What do Paralegals and Legal Assistants do?

Paralegals and legal assistants are an indispensable part of the legal system. They provide support to attorneys, law offices, government agencies, and corporations by researching legal precedent, performing investigative work on cases, and preparing legal documents. Paralegals and legal assistants help lawyers prepare for hearings, trials, and corporate meetings. They use technology and computer software for managing and organizing the increasing amount of documents and data collected during a case. In every area of law, paralegals form the clerical support structure the legal system has come to rely on.
